Foreword

Reflections are representative of many things. They represent people, places, and events of the past. They also represent all that is familiar to us now.

The seasons of our past are mirrored in the faces of children—the joys and carefree times forever gone, but eternally alive in our memories. Our heritage can be traced in the lines of an old man's wrinkled face. His entire body and soul are a monument to the suffering, ideas, and feelings of men through the ages and always.

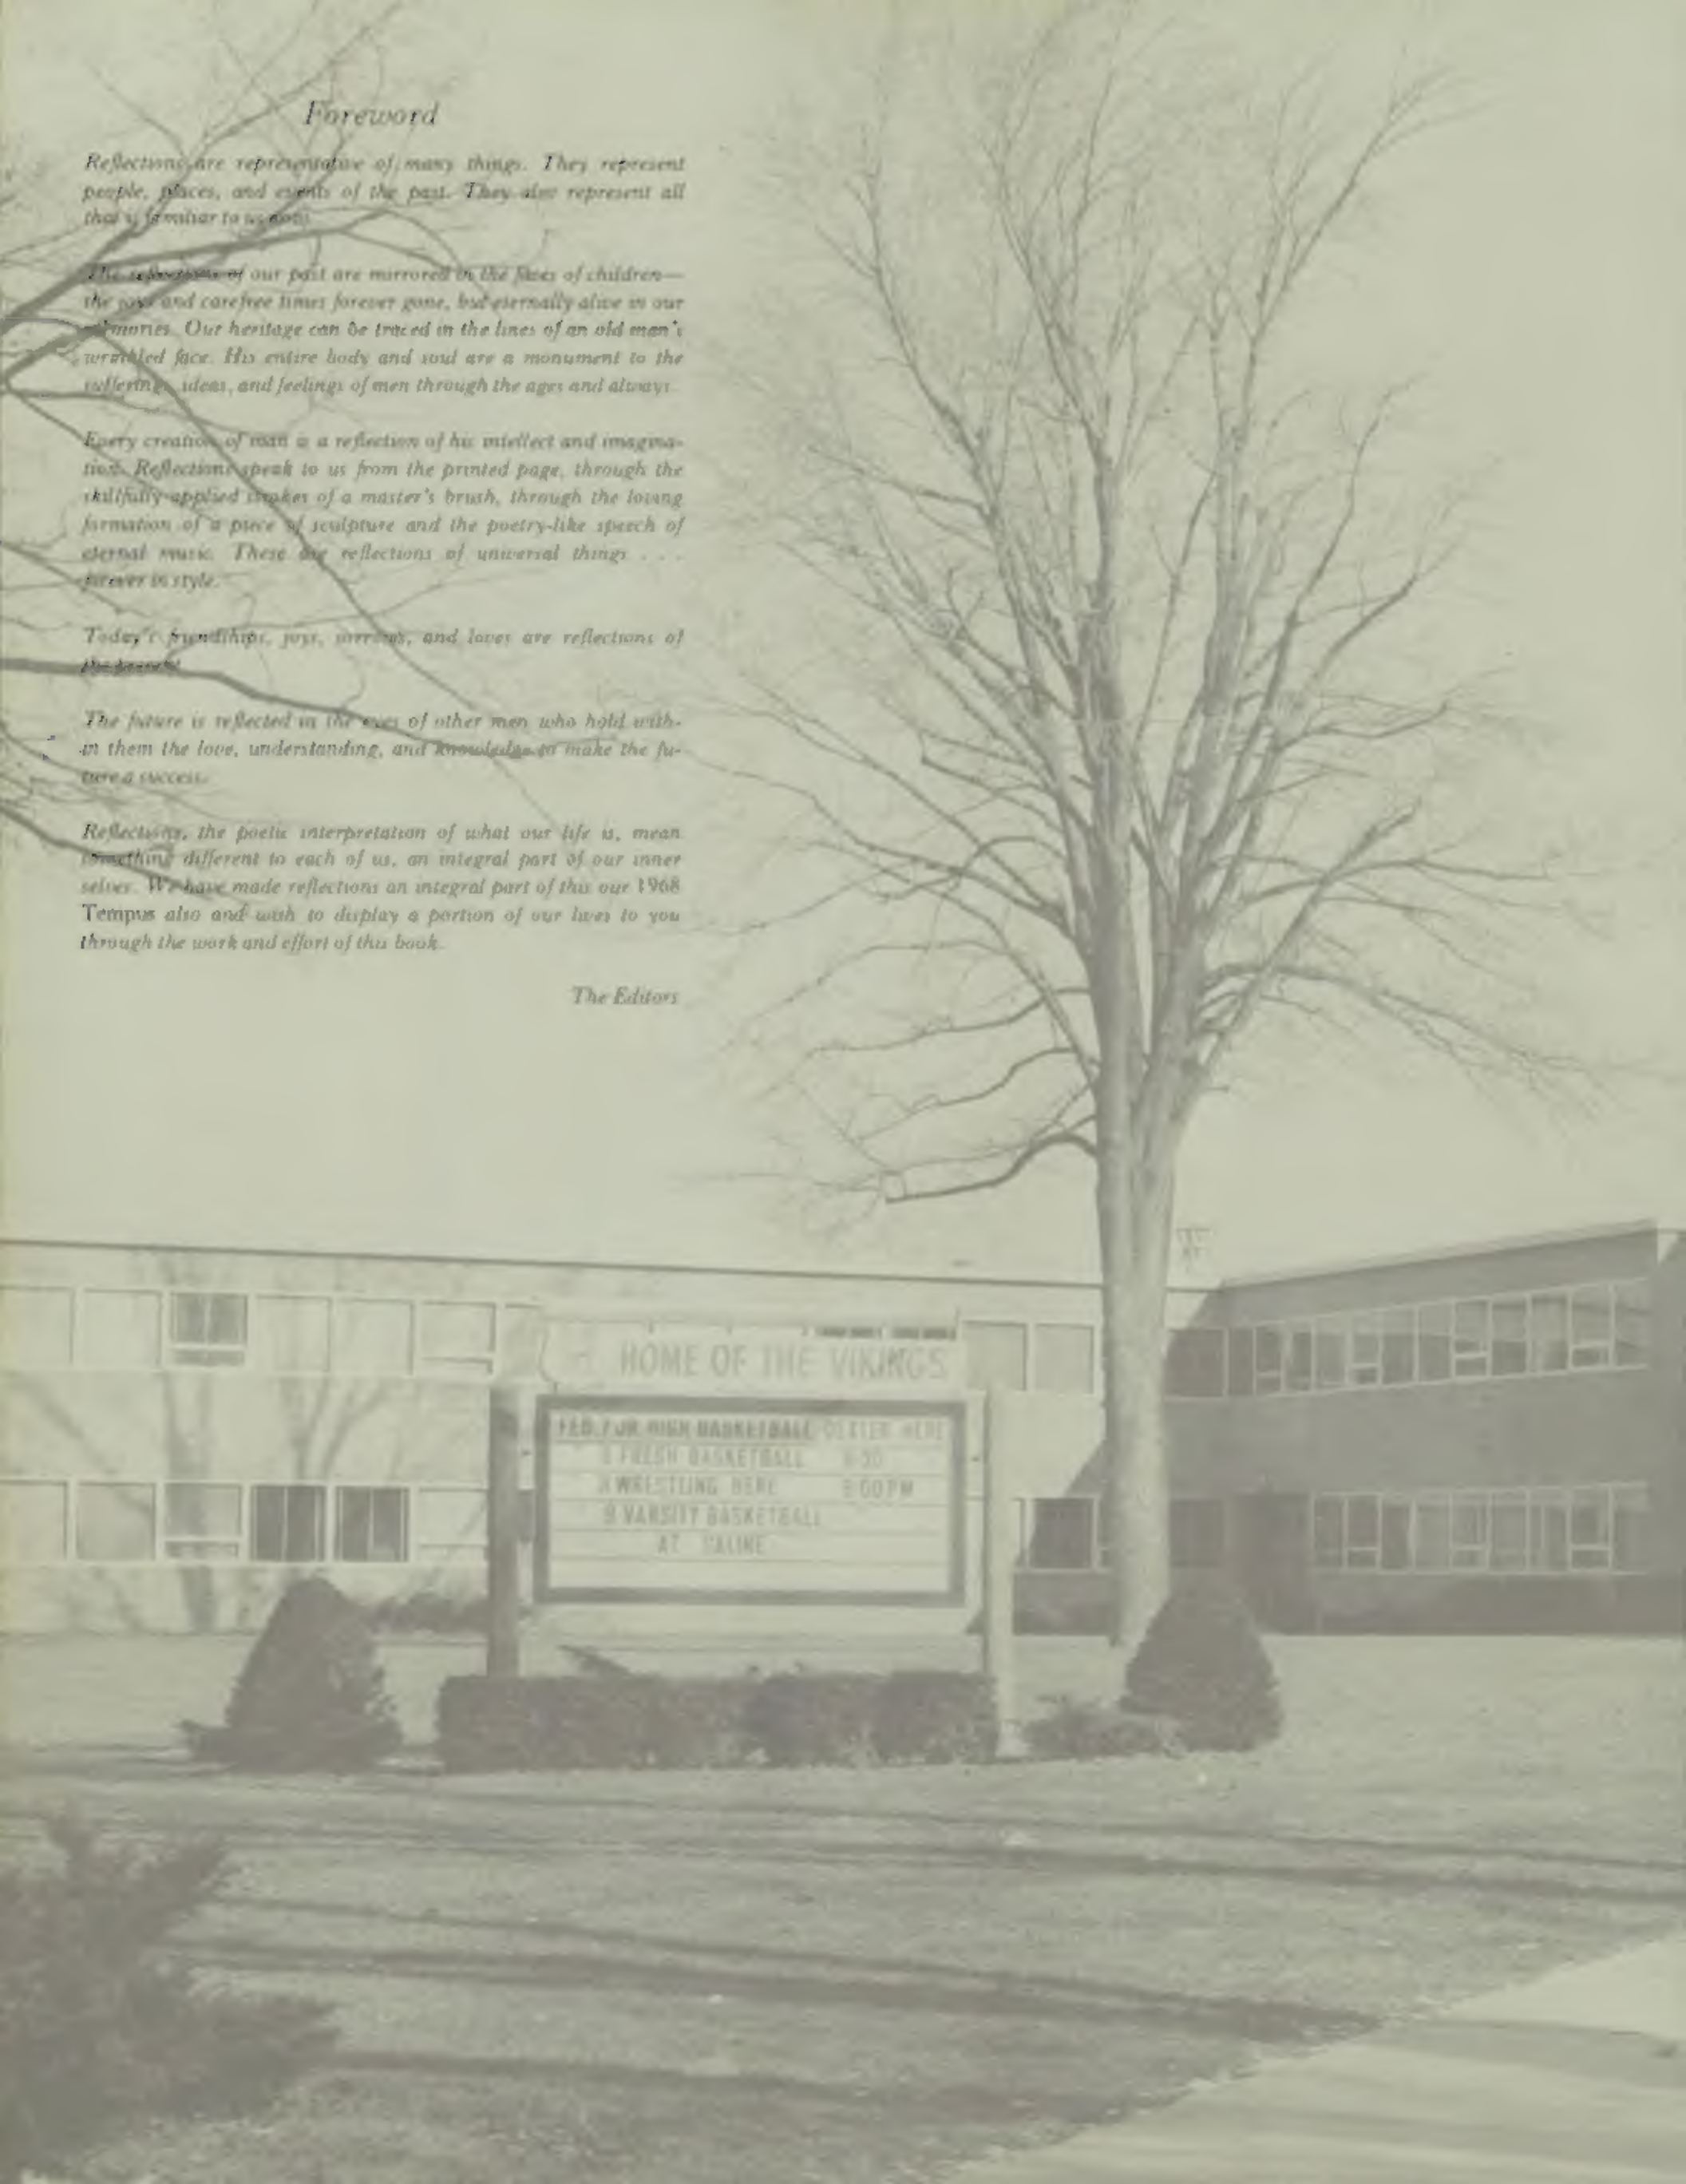

Every creation of man is a reflection of his intellect and imagination. Reflections speak to us from the printed page, through the skillfully-applied strokes of a master's brush, through the loving formation of a piece of sculpture and the poetry-like speech of eternal music. These are reflections of universal things . . . forever in style.

Today's friendships, joys, sorrows, and loves are reflections of the present.

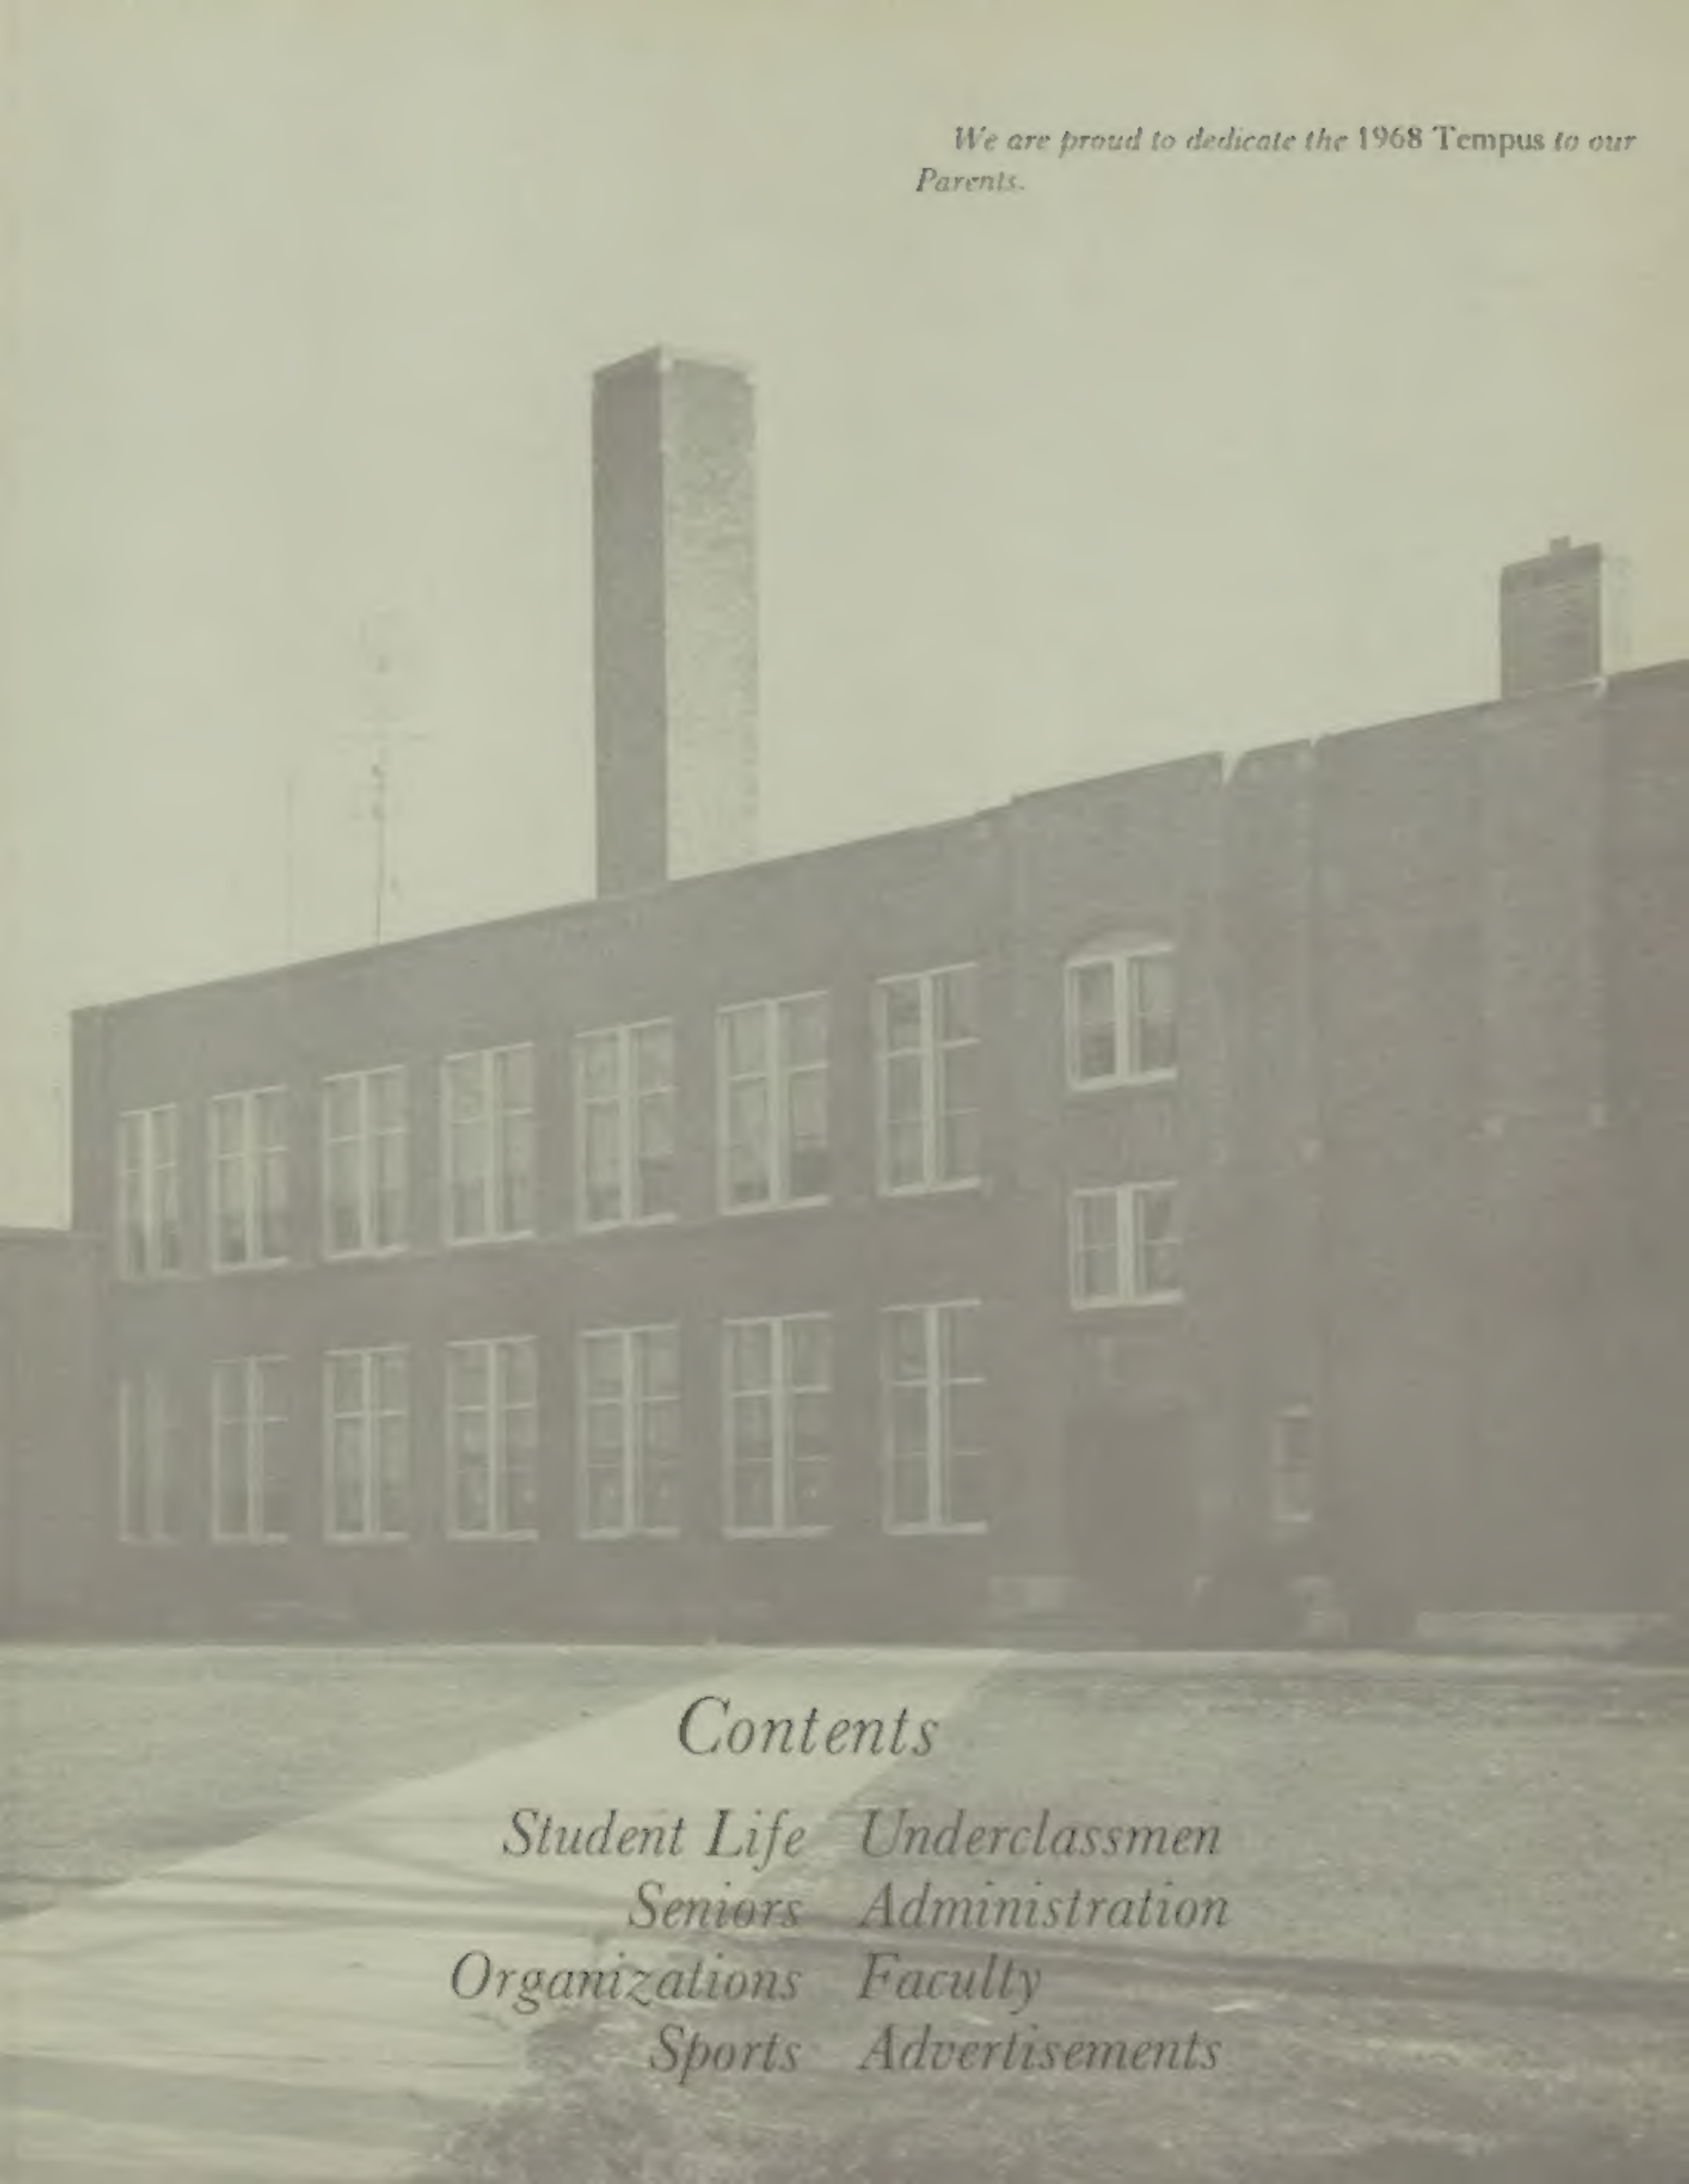

The future is reflected in the eyes of other men who hold within them the love, understanding, and knowledge to make the future a success.

Reflections, the poetic interpretation of what our life is, mean something different to each of us, an integral part of our inner selves. We have made reflections an integral part of this our 1968 Tempus also and wish to display a portion of our lives to you through the work and effort of this book.

*We are proud to dedicate the 1968 Tempus to our

The Top Ten consists of ten students in the graduating class who have maintained the highest scholastic averages. These students have much of which to be proud. As well as being scholastic leaders, they also have proven to be leaders in their activities in and out of school. In the future we hope the Top Ten will sustain the desire for excellence and go on to greater achievements.

Trophy Candidates

Harold Fiser
Doug Jennings
Woody Stucker

This trophy was given to the school by the parents of Pieter Winsemius, an exchange student from Holland, who attended our school in 1959-60. It is awarded to either a junior or senior boy who has lettered in football and one other sport and who ranks high academically. Selection is made by the principal and the Athletic Council.

The Ham Munson trophy is awarded to the senior boy who best qualifies on the basis of (1) athletic ability; (2) athletic participation in interscholastic sports; (3) scholastic aptitude and citizenship.

This year there were a few changes in the Student Council which have made this unit more representative and

The most important was the manner in which representatives and the president are elected

A new constitution was written defining the goals and purposes of the Student Council more clearly.

Some of the duties included sponsoring two scholarships and a Computer dance with Tecumseh

The many minor responsibilities of the Student Council were handled and progress was made in attaining a better relationship between the administration and the student body

This year the Viking Press Staff was larger than in any previous year, which enabled us to present a wider variety of editorial material as well as enlarge the size of the paper.

In addition to our regular interest of more general classmen.

John H. H. Sports was written by some of the eighth-grade boys.

The column "Writers' Writings" was a horoscope column.

The "Victor Viking" became a serious advice page.

The paper also took on a more national character.

Musicians from participating schools in the county meet each year to have tryouts for the Honor Band. In tryouts they play scales, have sight-reading, and play an assigned piece of music. These three pieces of music are judged on a point basis and the students who receive the highest number of points are given a chair in the band. It is difficult to become a member of the band and only the best musicians are chosen. Our school is fortunate to have these students in the Honor Band.
